Dear Parent/Guardian,

We are delighted to share that our school is taking part in an exciting project with the independent charity 'National Numeracy'. This project aims to help children and families feel more confident with numbers and to enjoy maths in fun, everyday ways. As part of this, we would like to offer parents and carers more opportunities to get involved.

We know that maths can sometimes feel daunting, but engaging with your child's learning in positive, simple ways can make a big difference to their confidence and your own.

We would therefore like to invite all parents and carers to a special workshop, 'Help Your Child Love Maths!', which will be held at school on Tuesday 24th March at 15:15.

This workshop is not a maths lesson, and no maths knowledge is required. Instead, it focuses on fostering positive attitudes towards numeracy and sharing practical ideas to help children develop these attitudes too. The session will look at the importance of maths in the real world, how to stay positive about maths, and ways to boost your own confidence with numbers.

We hope you will join us and make the most of this exciting opportunity to support your child's confidence and enjoyment of maths.

Yours sincerely,

Steffan Jones

Want to know more about how to support your children to develop positive attitudes towards maths?

Join us at the school on

Date: 24/03/26

Time: 15:15

This is not a maths lesson, and we won't be doing any actual maths! We'll be talking about the importance of maths in the real world, being positive about maths, and boosting our number confidence.
